Dear Eric;

First of all, let me thank you for the copy of your new book. It is just a tremendous piece of scholarship and you may be justly proud of it. Some philosopher of by gone years once wrote that "Only the written word survives man" and how right he was. Congratulations.

Now that the holidays are over, I can catch my breath and get this letter off to you. As I wrote you in my last letter, I have photographed some of the counterfeit coin detecting mechanisms in my collection. I had them all in color originally, but color does not copy well in black and white, so I had to do them over again. Some of these photos were used in a past article on Counterfeit Coin Detectors which appeared in the "New England Antiques Journal".

Enclosed herewith are the following photos:

1. Equal arm balance scale from Colonial America; Circa 1740
2. J. Allender, Patent Pending Model, 1854
3. J. Allender, Patent No. 13,840, dated Nov. 27, 1855 (Oval Box)
4. J. Allender, Patent No. 13,840, dated Nov. 27, 1855 (Square Box)
5. H. Maranville, Patent No. 16,390, dated Jan. 13, 1857
6. J. A. Thompson, Patent No. 187,936, dated Feb. 27, 1877 (Without letter slots)
7. J. A. Thompson, Patent No. 187,936, dated Feb. 27, 1877 (With letter slots)
8. J. W. Sutton, Patent No. 188,982, dated Mar. 27, 1877
9. E. Kronenberg Patent Pending Model, circa 1877
10. H. Maranville, Patent No. 203,057, dated Apr. 30, 1878
11. G. Hoag, Patent No. 216,184, dated Jun 3, 1879
12. J. T. McNally, "Inventor" model
13. J. T. McNally & Walter H. Harrison, Patent No. 12,795, dated Feb. 28, 1882. (Note the small patent number. This number was issued as a "design" rather than an invention according to Patent Office records>)

Letter to Eric P. Newman, dated April 30, 1990;

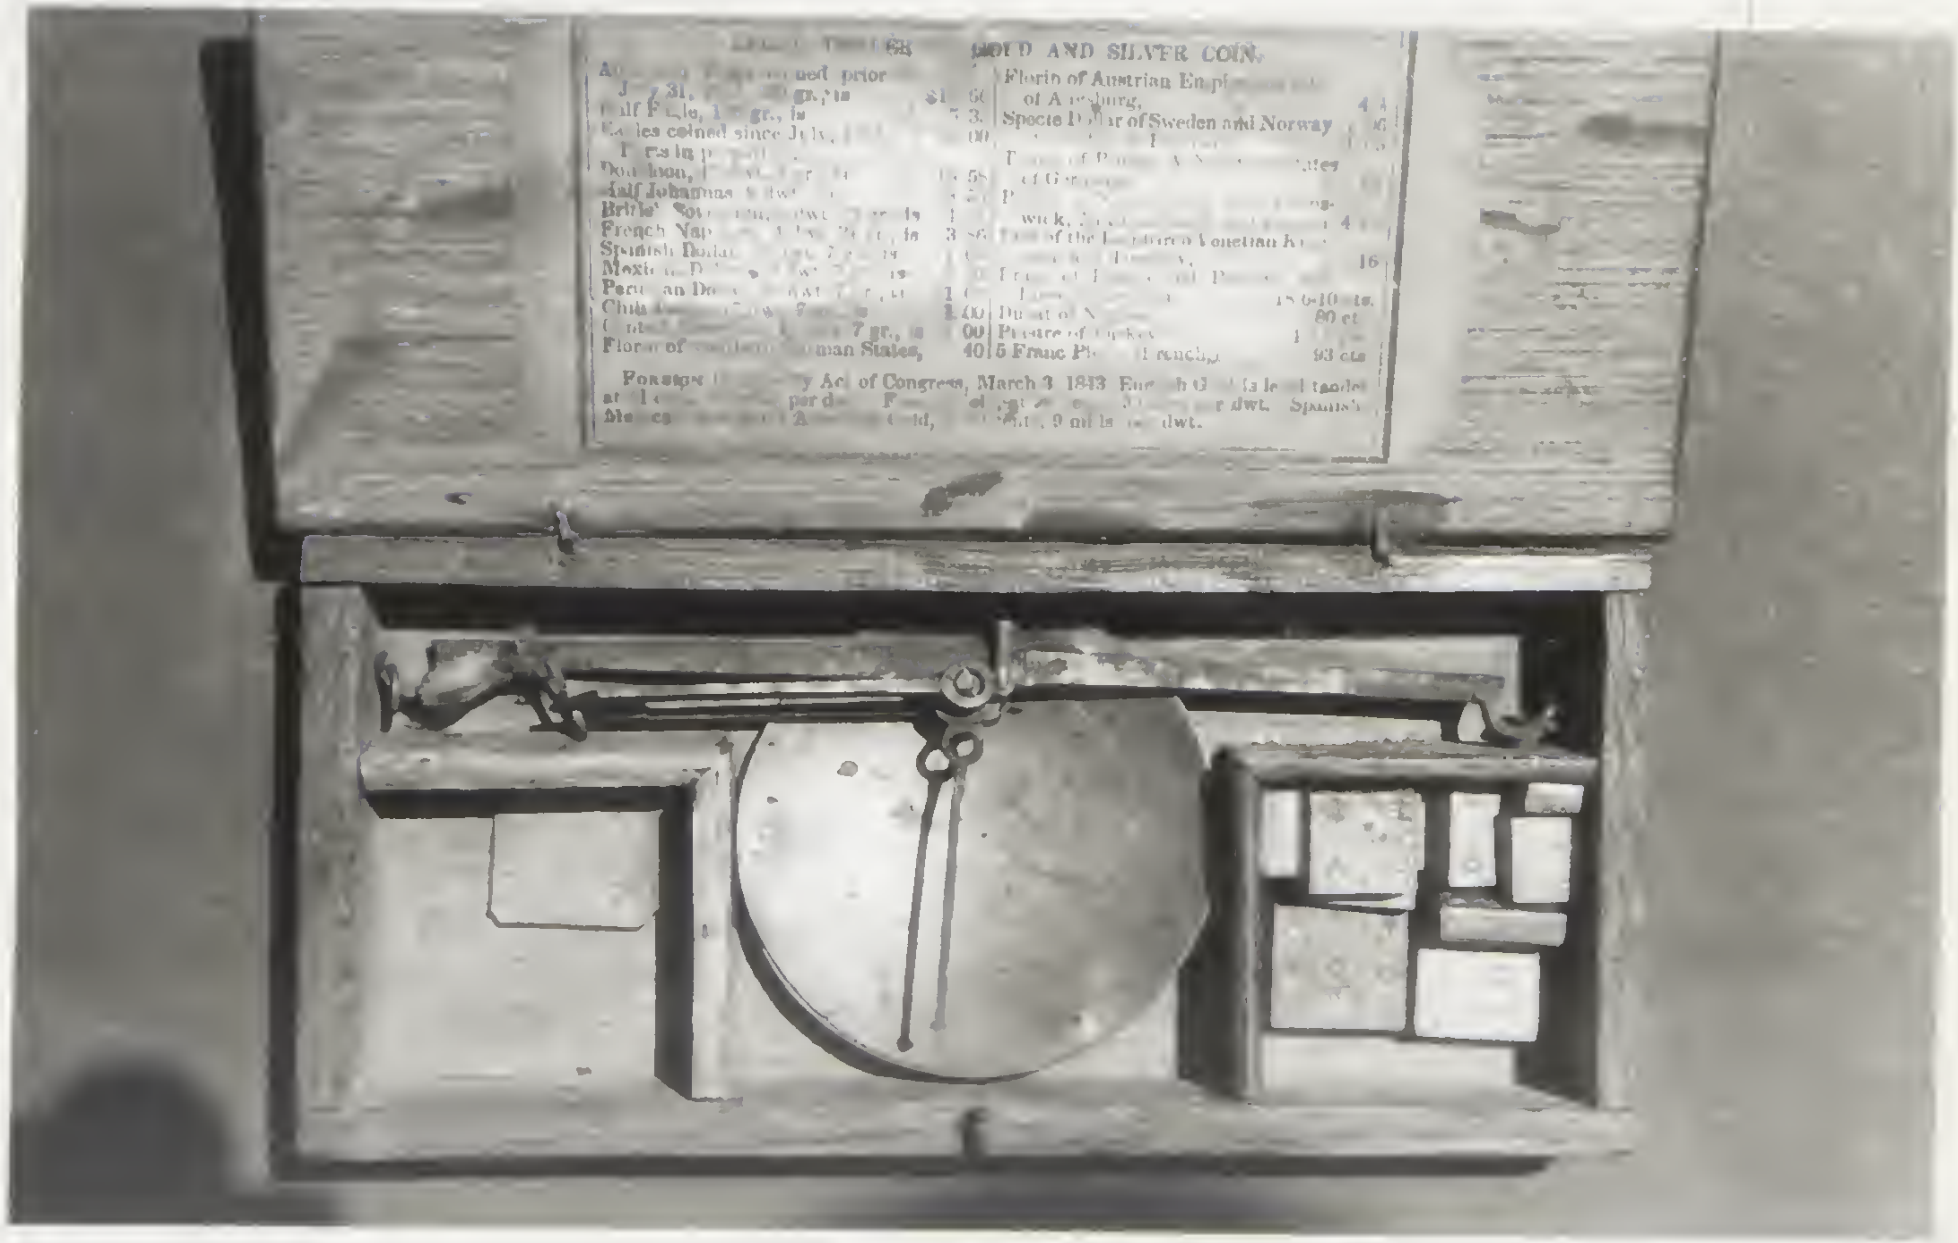
Also enclosed are two color prints of two recent purchases for which I have yet to obtain patent papers. One is a bulk cent and the other is both a bulk cent and bulk nickel weighing device that record not weight, but amount of money. One was made by the inventor's company, Hanson Scale Co., while the other was made by John Chatillion & Sons, New York, N.Y. Both of these scales are about 1930.

If you get a chance, please let me know how you are getting along with our manuscript. I should like to get all the work done and then see about getting it published either by ISASC or by some one else if ISASC does not want to do so. I would appreciate your comments about publication.

We would have liked to be with you at the ISASC meeting in Philadelphia, but Dorothy cannot travel that far, even in the steel back brace. So be it.

Remember us to Evelyn;

Sincerely;



GOLD AND SILVER COIN.
